To begin with . . .

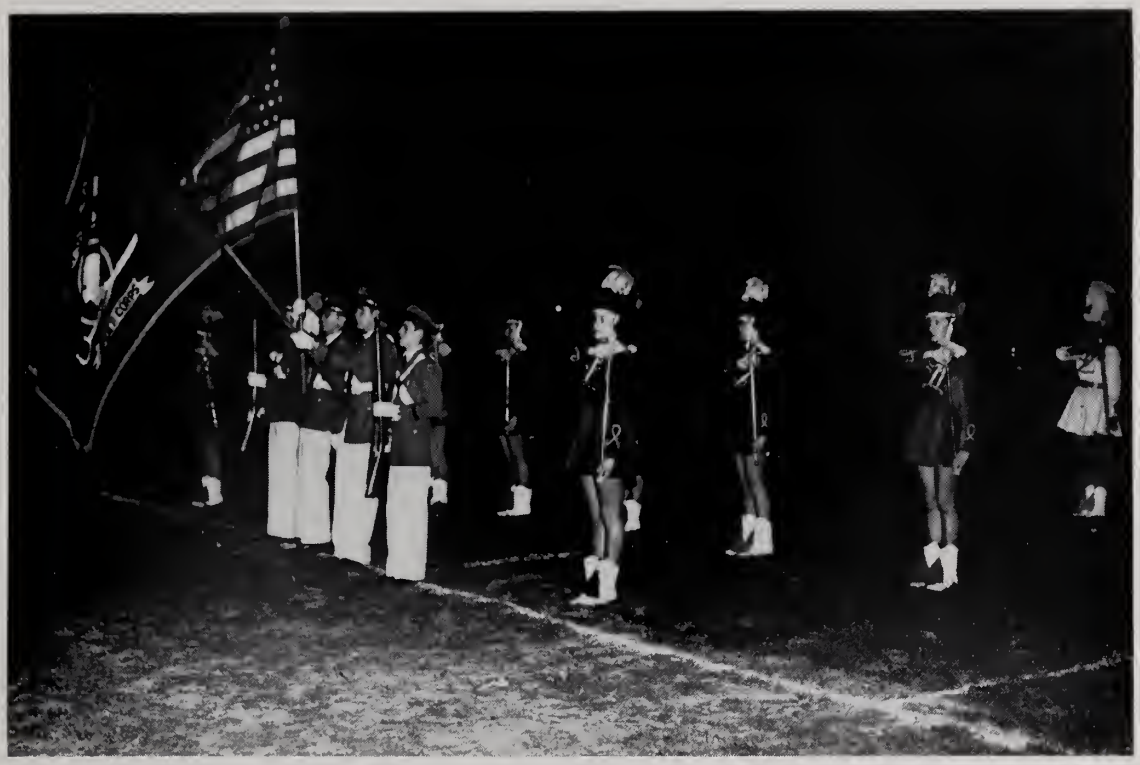
We hope this 1954 "Compass" will open the front door to your George Washington High School hall of memories.

As you turn the cover and leaf through this book, each page will act as a door to everything you knew, from the studious silence of the library, to the easy friendliness of the auditorium and front hall before school.

You'll be rushing through the screen doors of the cafeteria again, anxious to be first in the lunch line, or happily crowding through the gateway to the football stadium one of those gay and colorful Friday nights.

We hope that not only these doors, but those to other memories, such as the times you struggled with Latin or chemistry far into the night, will swing open when you relive your days at G.W. High through this "Compass."

"B" lunchers come to the end of their last lap before sitting down to a hearty meal.



At the faatball game all was silence and attentian as the Natianal Anthem flooted over the G.W. Stadium.

Fine craftsmen in the making stort here at G.W.'s shop.

A peek through the keyhole . . .

To one who is admired

MR. CHARLES WHITFIELD DRURY

DEDICATION

Mr. Charles Whitfield Drury was born in the industrial town of Herkimer, New York. During his years at Mohawk High School, he worked after school and on Saturdays in a local print shop. Encouraged to be a teacher, he studied at Oswego State College in New York and later at George Washington University. Periods as apprentice and journeyman were spent in printing in a commercial shop.

In 1935, in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, where he owned a print shop, Mr. Drury met and married the former Miss Dorcas Higinbotham. They have one son, Eugene.

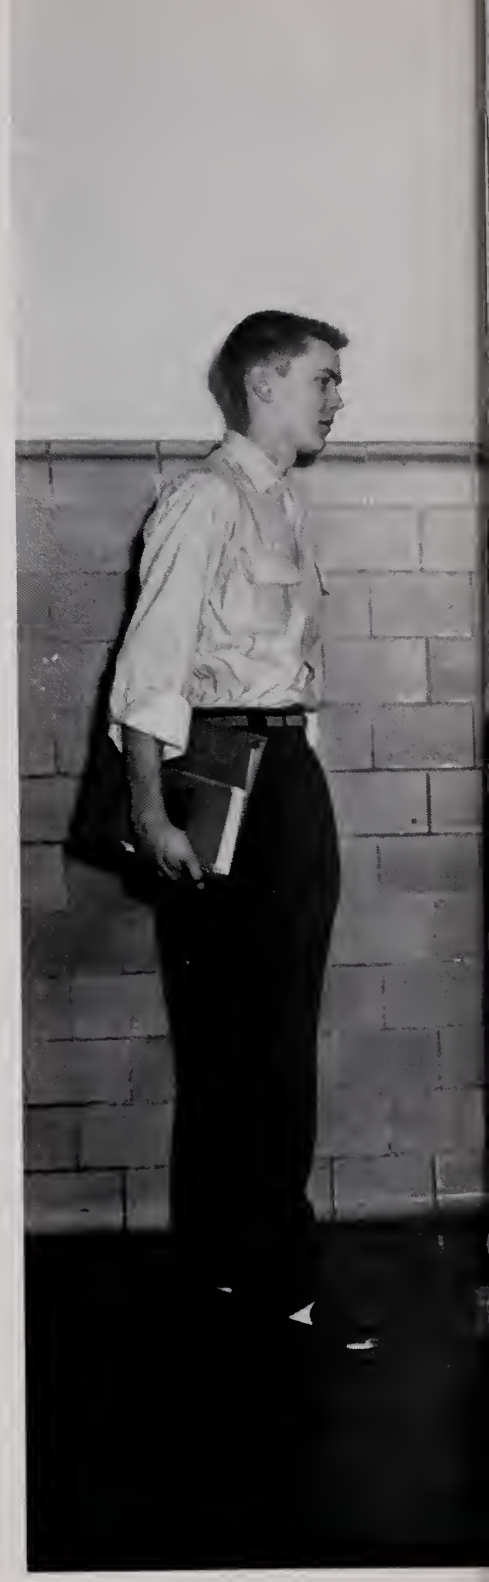
Mr. Drury's teaching experience began here in George Washington High School in 1942, and many of his former students are apprentices and journeymen in the area.

One of Mr. Drury's hobbies is the preparation of technical materials to be used by printers as professional and instructional material. He has had articles appear in The American Printer and the Graphic Arts Monthly and has published a pamphlet, "Fundamental Printers' Mathematics". Currently he is working on a textbook, The Manual of Printing.

Mr. Drury is setting the type for an issue of the "Surveyor", one of the many items printed in the shop each year.

Dean Allen better understands the operations of the press as Mr. Drury explains it to him.

Classes



'54 freshmen—no longer strangers . . . much to look forward to at the end of the sophomore year . . . the Junior-Senior Prom—a farewell . . . graduation exercises bringing mixed emotions . . . through these doors . . .

The best years of our lives in review

As eighth graders the present seniors began their high school career. They elected class officers, joined clubs, and supported the school activities. The sophomore year found them full of fun and frolic, and so they gave a Sock Hop; admission, one can of food. Then at last they were juniors. To start their junior year, they had a membership drive and in December a Christmas Hop. In May came the Junior-Senior Prom, and finally they stood at the door to seniorhood. Life's ambition seemed to be realized—seniors! As such they had the privilege of dedicating the "Compass" to their favorite teacher.

December seventh, Senior Day, they were a strange group of students; eating candy licking suckers, wearing odd costumes, playing in class, and having a party in the cafeteria sixth period. From this jovial note, their minds turned to more serious thoughts of term papers and exams. Next there was the Senior Prom for January graduates, and finally their graduation.

In the spring, the Junior Class gave the June grads a Junior-Senior Prom. Then came the Senior Prom, choosing the gift of the class to G.W., and at last graduation. So they turned to become another page of G.W.'s history.

G.W.-ites are dancing to the strains of "Star Dust" at the January Prom in the Lee Room of the George Mason Hotel.

This year's Senior Class elected Carole Webb and Jim Mottley President and Vice-President respectively.

Carole Webb, whose friendly smile is often seen in the halls, is as popular as she is pretty. Besides being an honor student, working on the "Surveyor", and being president of the Quill and Palm Honorary Society, she was elected a member of the football queen's court.

Jim Mottley, who is known to the whole school because of his outstanding participation in football and basketball, is also an excellent student. His warm smile and congenial manner make him a favorite with everyone.

Helen Herron, the class secretary is truly an "All-American" girl. Her versatility and enthusiastic interest in everything are shown by the fact that she, too, is an honor student, loves sports, and plays the piano exceedingly well.

Lucille Crowder is the January Chairman. Attractive and businesslike, she adequately fills the bill as a higher official in the senior class.

On Senior Day, Carole took Mr. Pruet's place as principal, Mr. Garner relinquished his position to Jim, and Helen stepped in as Mrs. Tolbert. Officers are also ex-officio members of the various committees which plan the activities of the senior class and help work out all the projects undertaken by these committees.

They rate highest

Andy Hamilton and Carole Webb, on their way from trig class, have made their mark again. Both were honor students all through high school and played important roles in school government.

Susie Moore and Harold Outten have been making friends around here since the day they first arrived. Their unaffected friendliness has made them a hit with everyone, from seniors to freshmen.

"Better watch out, John!" says Coral Williams to John Oliver. They were voted the wittiest, and anyone can tell why when he sees that extra special twinkle in their eyes.

Autographing a football for Gail Rinker is Harold Outten, G.W.'s football co-captain of '53. Petite Gail and 'Earthquake" Outten were known by everyone for their outstanding sports ability.

JUNIOR CLASS

Undoubtedly, one of the hardest working groups of students in G.W. was the junior class. With Mrs. Snider as sponsor, the class prospered and had many wonderful times.

After the class had been organized, a drive was put under way, the goal—one hundred percent membership in the junior class. Although the top mark was not reached, the effort proved nearly successful.

The biggest problem confronting the class was how to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. The Christmas Hop was the answer. Another responsibility was contributing one hundred dollars toward the publication of the "Compass."

Early in the spring, committees began to put their heads together to plan for the "big night" in May when final tribute would be paid to the departing seniors.

'55 seniors had a good start for their final year at G.W.

The Bible Club was newly organized this year, and was sponsored by Mr. Hensel Miller. To enlarge the students' spiritual outlook, religious movies were shown. Led by President Nancy Jones, it participated in the Youth for Christ rally.

The Junior Board planned all the activities of the junior class. It was made up of a representative from each of the fifteen junior home rooms and the officers of the class. These students met in the club room during activities period to discuss the class business and plans for the year and then reported to their home rooms the business carried on at the board meetings.

The first project of the year for these hard working juniors was the membership drive to sell every member a class card. One hundred dollars of the money earned this way was given to the "Compass." The rest was used to help finance the Christmas Hop and the biggest event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. The board members worked many long hours with their theme, "Moonlight and Roses," to make the prom one which would long be remembered.

Opening the door to Juniorship

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomore class marched through the doors of progress in 1954. They had several different undertakings. One of these was distributing the sophomore class cards, which had never before been given out. These blue cards were given to each of the tenth graders.

However, the main project was that of collecting toys from all members of the student body for foster welfare children recommended by the city board. This met with great success and gave the sophomores confidence to go on to bigger things in their junior year.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Freshmen, who have always been the "future" of any school, proved themselves to be a promising part of G.W. this year. They readily joined clubs and gave their loyal support at football, basketball, and baseball games and track meets. They even showed great interest in the crew races.

The class was sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Thrift. While members learned much scholastically during their first year, they also grew to know each other better. To get acquainted with "old timers" they went to a get-acquainted dance given by the Student Council last fall.

Robert Hughes, Earnest Blaine, Beverly Herbert, and Teddy Arthur, newcomers to G.W., pass through the auditorium doors to receive "info" on their new school from Joel Sipes.

MR. EDGAR G. PRUET, Principal

MRS. JOSEPHINE TOLBERT
Assistant Principal in Charge of Girls

MR. ROBERT R. GARNER
Assistant Principal in Charge of Boys

If a visitor were to judge G. W. by its principal, Mr. Edgar G. Pruet, who has been here eight years, he would get a picture of warm, friendly efficiency. Under his direction, with the help of Mr. Garner and Mrs. Tolbert, Dean of Boys and Dean of Girls respectively, a student body of over eighteen hundred runs smoothly.

Waiting to make morning announcements with Mr. Pruet are Barbara Price, Gordon Silcox, Lynn Chedester, and Adrienne Thatcher.

FACULTY

G.W. has one of the largest faculties in the area. A big slice of it is composed of teachers, while the rest is made up of the principal, assistant principals, nurse, and librarians.

Besides their regular classes, they participated in many other activities. On Friday nights during the football season, they sold and collected tickets. Others worked on various committees, sponsored clubs, supervised merit halls, chaperoned dances, sold school rings, produced plays, and helped in the publication of the school magazine, newspaper, and yearbook.

GUIDANCE

Miss White, head of the Guidance Department, is the counselor for the seniors; Miss Jones, the juniors; Miss Kinder, the sophomores; and Mr. Sanger, the freshmen. Each gives personal, educational, and occupational guidance to the students of G.W.

Here is the happy and efficient attendance office staff, Miss Ethel Baker, and Mrs. Margaret Bibb, hard at work.

SECRETARIES: Mrs. Esther Kennedy, Mrs. Mary Ellen Baber, Miss Helen Janes.

Did you know that 1860 G.W.-ites have 489 steps to climb, 900 cafeteria seats on which to sit, 25 clocks to watch, 2,078 lockers and 230 doors to open? They can take 94 subjects under 86 teachers and sit in 986 auditorium seats. During the football season they can cram themselves somewhere into the 390-foot grandstands to watch G.W. games.

Shown helping students who didn't quite make the bell are Miss Baker and Marcella Painter.

COLONEL AND MRS. GEORGE PATRICK

Both Colonel and Mrs. Patrick have seen much of the world at home and abroad during the Colonel's army service. Now retired, Colonel Patrick devotes his talents and experience to training young men and women in military service and in the arts of military tactics.

Colonel Patrick instructs and leads drills, while Mrs. Patrick keeps the office in shipshape order, by typing and scoring targets.

The Patricks, who are well liked by all, also plan fun for the cadets, such as the Cadet-Ball each year, and the talent shows.

Color Guard: Staff Sergeants: Rowzie, E.D., Batts, R.W.; Pennell, J.V.; Roth, M.

The cadet corps was one of the largest and most active classes at George Washington High School. Its members marched in the Armed Forces Day Parade in Washington and the George Washington Birthday Parade here in Alexandria. In addition they had competitive drills to choose the best drilled private, the best squad, the best platoon, and the best company, in both the boys' and girls' battalions.

All cadets were eligible to try out for the two rifle teams. However, only the very best marksmen finally made them. The teams shot in national postal tournaments, and in shoulder-to-shoulder matches against other high schools.

Being a cadet wasn't all work, for every week there was some recreation such as baseball, football, or volleyball. Also they saw many army training films. The social highlight of the year was the Cadet Regimental Ball, held in the Lee Room of the George Mason Hotel, at which the king and queen, elected by the corps, were crowned.

A number of carefully selected cadets shot the M1 rifle on the Marine Corps Rifle Range at Quantico.

During the football season cadets acted as ushers and sold programs at all the games.

The following pages give a general view of the activities in which the cadets busily participated this year.

RIFLE TEAM

The G.W. boys' rifle team has had an excellent record this year. Team number one took second place in the Hearst Trophy matches for the Second Army area and also came in third place in the Inter-collegiate matches for the same area.

The girls' team practiced regularly two days a week and had matches. Two of these were with the boys, each team winning once.

In the early spring Mark Blair and Terry Walker were elected the King and Queen af the Cadet Carps.

SABER CLUB

The Saber Club was made up of officers from each of the boy companies. It met every other week during the year with the other cadet clubs. These took turns putting on different forms of entertainment. Once, an all-musical show was staged by the Saber Club.

USHER SQUAD

At the beginning of the football season Colonel Patrick was heard saying, "Mr. Doran wants ushers for Friday night's game. Are there any volunteers?" Several hands were raised in every company.

Ushers were entitled to wear a fourragere as long as they remained in the squad.

Not only did the Usher Squad serve at football games, but it was also called upon by the faculty to seat guests at functions such as the Commencement exercises.

Lieutenant Colonel Larry Friesz, Captain Mark Blair, and Captain Clark Dill admire the William Randolph Hearst second-place trophy. These boys, along with Major Bill Hall and Sergeant Mike Wright, composed the team which won the trophy in the Second Army Matches.

LIWSKI CLUB AND CHEVRONS CLUB

The cadet corps' only girl club is its Liwski Club. It is composed of both commissioned and non-commissioned officers from the girl companies.

The boys' equivalent to the Liwski Club is the Chevrons Club, whose membership is sergeants and corporals from the three boy companies. Colonel George A. Patrick is the sponsor of both clubs; however, they are run by their own behavior rules which are decided on by the members.

Along with the Saber Club, these clubs take turns presenting interesting programs during the year.

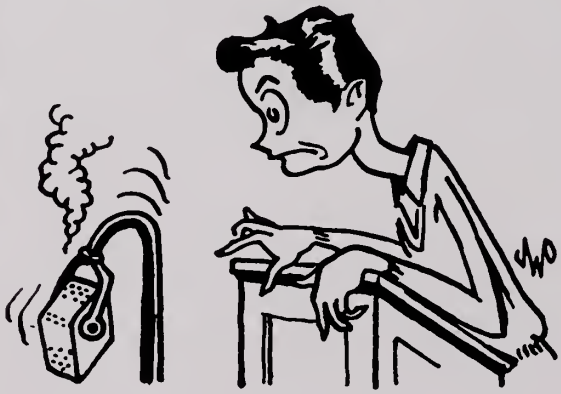
STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council undertook a "Get-Acquainted" Dance for the new students, distributed G.W. handbooks, and reopened honor study halls. It gave a parade and bonfire preceding the G.W.-W.L. game and the Homecoming Dance, at which Andy Hamilton, S.C. President who had been ill, was the surprise package.

During the second semester, the council gave a dance for new freshmen and exchange students and instituted senior privileges. It began a program for closer association between high school and homebound students, and assigned a S.C. member to every new student to help him feel more at home on his first day here.



Guiding school activtiies throughout the year is the Executive Committee, headed by the president of the Student Council. Committee members are: seated: Carole Webb, Andy Hamilton, Elaine Fately, and Nancy Garland. Standing: Pat Comanduras, Marshall Henderson, Gordon Silcox, and Margie Lucas.

The task of handling the everyday disciplinary problems belongs to the Honor and Discipline Committee led by the Second Vice-President of the Student Council. This year's members are: seated: Elaine Fately, Andy Hamilton, Margie Lucas, and Pat Comanduras. Standing: Paul Sheridan, Nancy Moore, Rita Easley, and Molly Moore.

The annual bonfire, held before the W.-L. game, was sponsored by the Pep Committee. Its success was due to the warmth and spirit contributed by G.W.'s own students and the same enthusiasm that spurred the team on to victory the following day.

QUILL AND PALM

Each member of the Quill and Palm is carefully chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service to G.W., from the high junior, low senior, or high senior class.

An annual project of this chapter is to raise money for a fifty-dollar scholarship, which is given to an outstanding senior. This year the club also sponsored the "Bucket Bounce" and a pep dance and helped with college night.

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll International Honorary Society is for high school journalists. The requirements for membership are a high junior standing, B or above average, recommendation by the sponsor of the publication on which the candidate works, and at least two years' service on this publication. Invitations are sent out in the winter and in the spring.

One project undertaken by G.W.'s chapter is the publication of the "Last Will and Testament", but the big event of the year is the Quill and Scroll Banquet. This is held every spring, and two speakers, outstanding in the world of journalism, are invited.

Seated: Ann Farest, Margie Lucas, Herb Kahler. Standing: Helen Herran, Lucy Marston, Pam Whartan, Marilyn Lawrance, Dat Finnegan, Patt O'Connell, Marti Haislip.

Helen Herran types a draft of the Last Will and Testament as Patt O'Cannell and Lucy Marstan give expert advice.

The three staffs of the "Compass" are the advertising, sponsored by Miss Katherine McElroy; the business, sponsored by Mr. Irving Lindsay; and the literary, sponsored by Miss Stewart Jones.

Every day the staffs worked to meet their deadlines. Those on the art staff arranged the layout of the book and illustrated it, while others wrote copy and headlines or scheduled and took pictures. The senior staff prepared the senior section and the directory.

In addition to the months of planning and working, the staff found time to collect a basket of food for a needy family at Christmas, and to give a party in the club room in February.

THE SURVEYOR

For one thin dime, two fat nickels, or ten old pennies one can buy "The Surveyor", G.W.'s school newspaper. In its six pages are found "I Was There", the society column; "Senior Surveys", biography of an outstanding senior boy and girl; articles; and editorials.

Mrs. Gilbert, the sponsor, and her hard working staff have made "The Surveyor" an outstanding publication. In addition to publishing the paper, they maintain a bulletin board and give a big spring dance.

During activities periods the Surveyor Club meets. It is made up of members who are not necessarily on the staff, but who are interested in journalism.

The "Little Hatchet", the school magazine, under the leadership of its sponsor, Miss Robertson, labored long and hard to sort out the many stories and poems submitted by members of the club and the student body. Only the very best of both literature and art work were accepted for the December issue of the "Little Hatchet". A "rip-roaring" advertising campaign resulted in more magazines being sold than ever before.

In February Mrs. Gilbert took over as sponsor for the second semester. The spring issue, which came out in color, was also a big success.

SPANISH CLUB

The music and laughter heard in Room 140 is the Spanish Club, rehearsing one of the scenes in the coming language assembly.

A visitor who may peek in to see what's happening will be greeted by Mrs. Van Saun, the sponsor. A glance at the calendar shows that a Christmas party, collecting food for a needy family, a spring picnic, and interesting club programs are in the offing.

Leaving the room, he knows that the Spanish Club is one of the most worthwhile at G.W.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, sponsored by Miss Kiracofe and Mrs. Lynn, is devoted to furthering interest in Roman culture at G.W.

At the beginning of the Christmas season, members gave a party, and in February an assembly program. To choose a play for the assembly, the members held a writing contest, and the winner received a sterling silver pin.

In the spring, another party was held, which brought a successful and lively year to an end.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

During the activities period every other week, a hearty voice from the library may be heard saying, "Bonjour, mes amis." The Normans haven't invaded America; it is a meeting of the French Club.

Sponsored by Miss Grant, the club learned about the relation of France to the United States. They were helped by discussions, singing, and seeing slides. Only French was spoken. One of the highlights of the year was the assembly produced by the Spanish Club, the Latin Club, and the French Club combined.

WORLD EVENTS CLUB

The World Events Club is one of the most active and progressive clubs at G.W. During the year they held conferences, not only here in the school library, but in neighboring schools.

Although presenting a United Nations assembly was the main project of the year, G.W., along with other schools, participated in a contest, the winner of which took a free trip to Europe. Miss Baugh, the sponsor, saw to it that interesting subjects such as the McCarthy-Eisenhower split and future space travel were chosen and explored at the bi-weekly meetings.

Members acted as hosts to a joint conference between G.W. and other schools of the area, who met here one afternoon. Organized labor and the farm problem were two of the topics discussed.

Dot Finnegan, Jimmy Cultiss, Stephen Pye, and Gene Tamlinson are making last minute preparations before the United Nations Assembly.

It was an imitation of the General Assembly, and involved several countries, including Britain, Russia, and the U.S., arguing over the rights to the moon. There was a brawl between the countries until the Assembly was interrupted by a messenger from the moon who declared that the moon had became independent.

CHEERLEADERS

Any way a person looked at it, he couldn't help seeing that G.W.'s '54 cheerleaders were a superior group. Besides having energy and vigor, they were known for their real and inspiring school spirit. Many afternoons after school they practiced yells and formations in the halls. Miss Herde chose new cheerleaders for the J.V. team after spring tryouts. Varsity cheerleaders were promoted from J.V. on the basis of their pep, grace, ability, and appearance.

MAJORETTE CLUB

The Majorette Club, headed by Mrs. Grace McGilvray, planned many interesting activities throughout the year. They held a "Get-Together" tea in November to meet majorettes from Arlington, Falls Church, and Fairfax High Schools. They gave a Valentine Dance, and a spring picnic topped off a busy year.

Members are chosen as a result of tryouts, for their skill in twirling and marching.

DANCE CLUB

G.W.'s Dance Club, sponsored by Mr. Funesti, Miss Somers, and Miss Etheridge, was formed to help its members gain poise on the dance floor and enjoy dancing.

The most important feature on the calendar was sponsoring the Thanksgiving dance held during both activities periods, admission—one can of food. On Thanksgiving the food was carried to needy families of Alexandria.

Glaria Brawn, Vice-President, and Daug Yates, President, meet briefly in the club raam. Jimmy Kidd, Secretary-Treasurer, was absent when this picture was taken.

HOBBY CLUB

Members of the Hobby Club collected everything from buttons to butterflies, and met on Tuesday afternoons to share their hobbies.

The club took field trips to interesting places in the vicinity. Their annual project was helping the Children's Hospital. The young patients there enjoyed the Christmas cards which the Hobby Clubbers collected and mounted in a scrapbook.

Since it promoted friendliness in a relaxing and interesting way, the Hobby Club was a favorite with the younger set at G.W.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The F.H.A. is one of G.W.'s busiest clubs. Besides its regular activities, it strives to uphold the eight purposes of the F.H.A., two of which are the development of leadership and the promotion of international good will.

Annual events are F.H.A. week and the sending of packages to Europe. The spring is full, with picnics, a mother-daughter tea, and a Shamrock Hop.

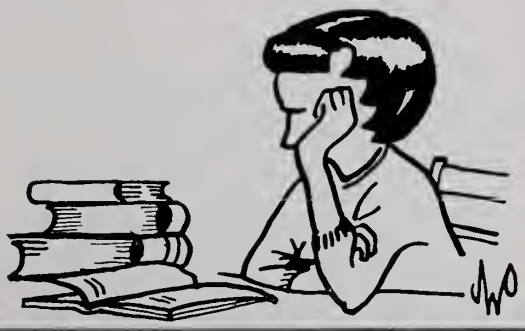
FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

The Future Business Leaders of America Club is a branch of the State and National organization which has been at G.W. for three years.

The F.B.L.A. has many projects, the most extensive of which is sponsoring the student bank.

Members of the club are all enrolled in business subjects. The main purpose of the club is to help its members to become better informed workers. They are encouraged by all the club activities to show leadership and cooperation "on the job".



Discussing plans for the club with Joan Cabean, President, are: Charlatte Semanes, Treasurer; Glaria Davis, Secretary; and Barbara Clift, Vice-President.

Glaria Davis accepts deposits from Joan Adams and Sylvia Chewning as they place their money in the bank sponsored by the F.B.L.A.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

To be taken into the Library Club, of which Mrs. Seay is the sponsor, one must have been a library assistant during a previous semester or at the time he was admitted.

The purpose of the club is to learn more about how a library works. This is accomplished by slides and talks by Miss Helm about the ordering of books and the use of the card catalog.

The social activities of the club were a Christmas party, a field trip to the National Archives Building, and a spring picnic.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Looking forward to a colorful and rewarding job were these teachers of tomorrow.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Snider, members heard interesting talks on such phases of education as scholarships and America's outstanding educational needs.

They kept a scrapbook of the recent changes made in the School System of Alexandria. On "Back to School Night" and at "Open House", club members served as guides for the parents.

Highlighting the year were two trips taken to the Robert E. Lee School and to a nursery school. Members visited these schools to observe modern methods of education.

Jeanine Mauck, Secretary, Villard Griffin, President; Sharon Todd, Historian; Gearge Huffman, Program Chairman; and Michael Tomlin, Photographer, are studying a chart of the solar system with Miss Whittaker, their sponsor. Gus Hendricks, Treasurer, was absent when the picture was taken.

ASTRONOMY CLUB

The Astronomy Club was a busy and educational organization. Through well planned programs, members learned much about the planets, moon and stars. Those who wished could take the club telescope home and study the skies first hand. The members took a trip to the Naval Observatory in Washington and the Ft. Belvoir Observatory. Later in the year they enjoyed the spring picnic, which has become an annual event. Under the sponsorship of Miss Lula Whittaker, this club was one of the most interesting at G.W .

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club is newly organized at G.W., but it already has about twenty members.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Grove, the junior photographers learned about the parts of the camera and how it is used.

Dovid Stryker, Ricky Litterick, Bobby Dickens, and Jimmy Stewort wotch as Mork Bloir, president of the club, exploins some of the finer paints of photography.

This chapter of the Junior Red Cross is composed of representatives from each home room, helping in the program of the world-wide organization.

Its aim is to spread goodwill and to send aid to those in need here and overseas. An annual project is filling Christmas gift boxes for children of foreign countries.

DOUBLE-BARRED CROSS

The goal of the Double-Barred Cross was to help educate G.W.'s students about tuberculosis, to assist in the annual process of taking X-rays, and to make gayer the dreary life of those confined to sanitariums.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Currin, the students met once a month after school, at which time they planned future meetings, trips and projects, and heard various speakers.

At Christmas everybody in the club made favors for the trays of tuberculosis patients at Maryland Sanitarium. They also visited this hospital and took a trip to the Alexandria Health Department.

Working on a club project are: Front: Corley McDonold, Jean McDonold, Marilyn Lewis. Rear: Loretto Less, Sue O'Driscoll, Barbara Cohen, Effie Campbell.

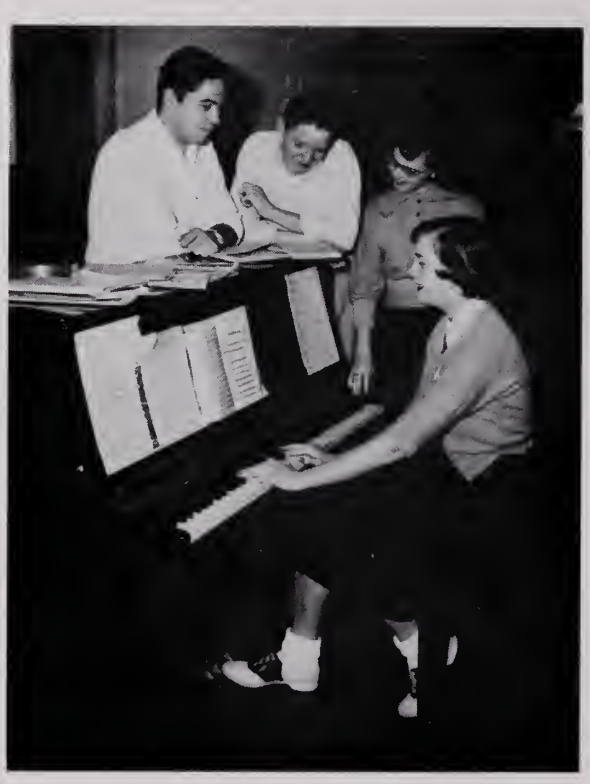
The A Cappella Choir, with an approximate membership of thirty girls, is a select group of soprano and alto voices. Hard work in their informal classes assured the girls of performing at their best. The group sang for school assembly programs as well as at a breakfast sponsored by the businessmen of Washington. It was well commended by the judges at the District Festival in Bridgewater for its performance there.

The Boys' Glee Club sang with the A Cappella Choir at special community functions and for school assemblies.

The Boys' Double Quartet, which was just instituted here, helped to broaden G.W.'s musical outlook.



Dickie Crompton, Bob Hardesty, and Joanne Hallman practice a new song, accompanied by Marilyn Lewis.

Guys with rhythm

The Boys' Double Quartet was organized in February of this year. Since it was the newest singing group at G.W., few plans were made for public appearances.

BOYS' DOUBLE QUARTET: David Whitestone, Stuart Evans, John Bernhard, David Bishop, John Oliver, Lewis Frinks, Bill Potts, Dickie Crompton.

Membership in the A Cappella is by audition only, and the competition is stiff. Because of their fine singing ability, the girls are often asked to sing publicly.

They are proud of the fact that they received a number one rating at the Spring Festival.

SENIOR BAND

As everyone who has ever had a sixth period class on the first floor knows, the senior band has rhythm and velocity.

The senior band, composed of G.W.'s most outstanding instrumental players under the direction of Mr. Roy Smith, performed at many school activities including assemblies and football games.

On frosty, Friday nights during the fall, football audiences could see their bright uniforms and hear their horns in the stadium here, as well as in others, such as the municipal stadium in Richmond (during the T.J. game), as they played the team on to victory.

In the spring the band went to Fairfax to participate in the Virginia State Instrumental Music Festival. This year they were very proud, and justly so, of their rating of one, which was the equivalent of first prize.

AWARDS

G.W. copped a number of awards in the '54 season both through its individual players and as a team. Harold Outten, the co-captain, and Jerry Lawter gained All-State and All-Southern recognition. Outten also was chosen for the All-Metropolitan team. Dave Beach was voted The Most Valuable Player, and Jerry Lawter was awarded the Dinky Scott Trophy.

As a team, G.W. emerged from the season with the Tulloch Memorial Trophy and the Old Oaken Bucket, both of which were returned later, however, when it was discovered that G.W. had unknowingly used an ineligible player.

WILSON

Wilson's strong defense held G.W. scoreless in the Prexies' first game of the season. A deadlock was broken only in the third quarter when Wilson gained two points on a safety.

FAIRFAX

In their second game, the Prexies bounced back to swamp Fairfax, 30-6. G.W. displayed a well balanced offense and a strong defense in their first victory of the season.

HOPEWELL

G.W. invaded Hopewell and administered a 13-7 defeat to the powerful Blue Devils. Alan Reynolds and Alfred Judd scored the Prexie touchdowns while Hal Outten spearheaded G.W.'s hard-charging line.

Jim Mattley of G.W. heads for the ground after being hit by Bruce Hunt (22) of Fairfax.

Halfback Noel Walters (15) of G.W. drives ahead for extra yardage despite the determined efforts of a host of Fairfax Rebels to stop him.

Jimmy Mattley of G.W. is hit by two unidentified T.J. players as Stewart Powers (64) of T.J. moves in on the play.

Defenders of the blu e and gold

Jim Mottley is brought down after a short gain by an unidentified Mount Vernon tackler. Rick Rinker (48) and Jim Swan (38), both of G.W., and an unidentified Mt. Vernon player (37) come up on the play.

THOMAS JEFFERSON

G.W. journeyed to Richmond where they were tied by T.J., 7-7. The tie kept G.W. from sharing in the State title.

Alan Reynolds' forty-one yard return of an intercepted pass and Walter Johnson's conversion gave G.W. their seven points in the first period. T.J. matched them early in the fourth quarter. The game was one of the hardest hitting contests of the season, both teams displaying strong defenses.

PETERSBURG

G.W.'s defense played another superb game, and this time they had an offense to help them as the Prexies downed Petersburg 19-0. Jim Mottley's two thirty-four yard touchdown passes, and Dave Beach's nine-yard run gave G.W. their third victory of the season.

EPISCOPAL

After outplaying Episcopal for the first half, the Prexies fell in defeat before the surging second-half attack of the undefeated Maroon eleven, 20-9. G.W. scored first in the second quarter on a twenty-five yard dash over right tackle and had numerous other scoring opportunities but could cash in on only the one.

ST. JOHN'S

After being sidetracked by Episcopal, G.W. got back on the road to victory by overcoming St. John's 27-2.

Butch Darley sparked the Prexies on offense, and Harold Outten led the sturdy defenses that stopped the Johnnies with a minus-three yards rushing.

MOUNT VERNON

The first half of the Prexies' game was a hard fought battle ending with Mt. Vernon ahead 12-10 at half time. In the second half, G.W. broke the Major's defense wide open, racking up a final tally of 29-12. Dave Beach, with two touchdowns, led G.W. in scoring.

Jerry Lawter, Dick Rinker, (48), and Butch Darley of G.W. pull down Episcopal's Fletcher Carter (80).

Tommy Burnett of Petersburg spills Jim Mottley as Petersburg's Jack Evans rushes up.

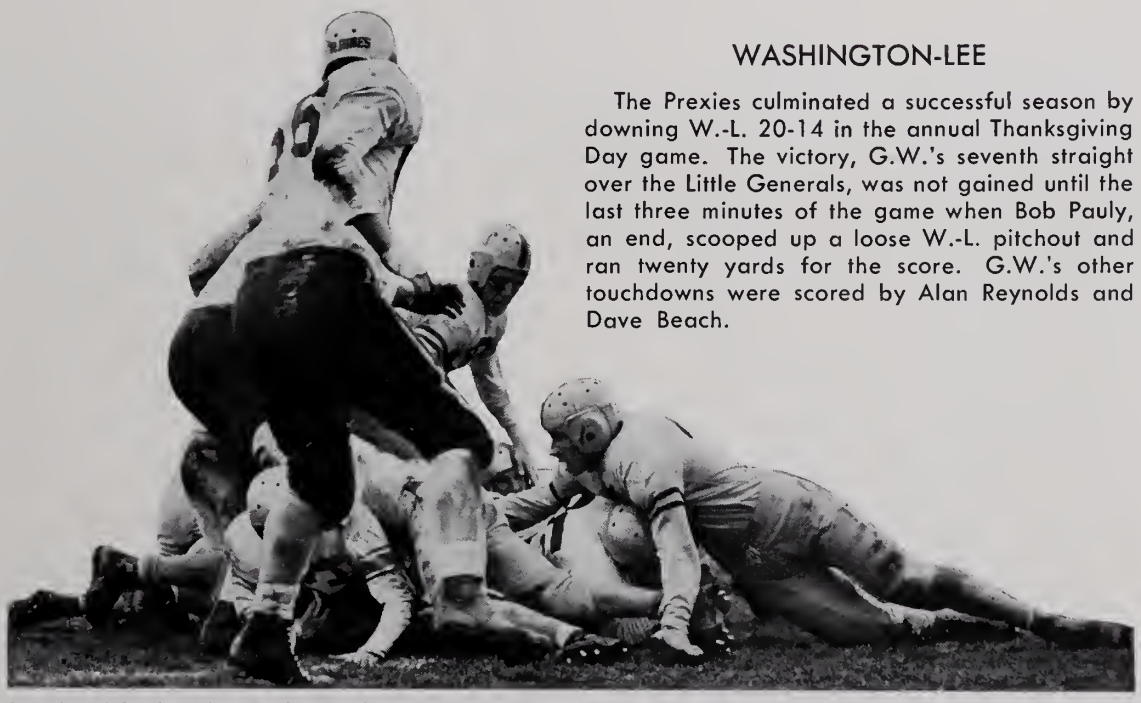
WASHINGTON-LEE

The Prexies culminated a successful season by downing W.-L. 20-14 in the annual Thanksgiving Day game. The victory, G.W.'s seventh straight over the Little Generals, was not gained until the last three minutes of the game when Bob Pauly, an end, scooped up a loose W.-L. pitchout and ran twenty yards for the score. G.W.'s other touchdowns were scored by Alan Reynolds and Dave Beach.



Dan Kaus (13) of G.W. goes down under a host of players in G.W.'s annual game with W.-L. Other identifiable players are Chris Plain (36) of W.-L. and Frank Long and Jerry Lawter of G.W.

Coach Cy Painter's Junior Varsity squad led by Co-Captains Bill Shu and Anthony Antonioli, compiled a two-win, five-loss record for the season against topflight competition.

The Jayvees played good ball in every game and scored in all but one of their contests. Despite their losing record, their season was considered a success, for it achieved its aim, to give experience to the boys who will return as Varsity team members in the years ahead.

Hands up

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Under the guidance of their new mentor, Steve Osisek, the 53-54 Prexies turned in a fine season compiling a 14-9 season record. Coach Osisek had only one man, Doug Yates, left after graduation from the starting five of the year before. However, out of some good players from last year's J.V. and the returning lettermen, he molded a team that was an excellent defensive unit, which after a slow start became a potent offensive quintet.

On defense the Presidents employed the man-to-man and the old G.W. standby, the zone. As the team was well versed in both of the defenses, they frequently changed in the course of the game as the occasion demanded. The Prexies were led on offense by All-State forward Doug Yates, who was the team's high scorer with a 20.1 point average. Wilmer Anderson, who was co-captain along with Yates, was second for scoring honors with an average of 10.6. The other starters were John Keen, Mike Agee, and Wayne Stewart or George Coburn. Also Jim Mottley and Dean Allen saw a lot of action.

It is interesting to note that in all but three of their defeats, the Presidents were edged by only a few points. In fact, G.W. lost six games by a total of 11 points or an average of 1.8 points per game. Three of G.W.'s losses were by one point, one by two points, and two by three points.

Daug Yates gaes up far a scare os Dick Davis af W.-L. tries unsuccessfully ta stop him. Wayne Stewart is the other G.W. player.

Dean Allen (22) of G.W. tries to block a shot by Mike Williams (12) of Gonzaga in the finals of the Metropolitan Tournament. Wilmer Anderson (14) of G.W. and Dick Ridgeway (14) of Gonzaga are the other identifiable players.

TOURNAMENTS

After narrowly missing the title for the past two years, G.W. captured the Metropolitan Invitational Tournament Championship by defeating Gonzaga in the final game 57-42.

To reach the finals, the unranked Prexies had to defeat Landon, the private school champions, and St. Anthony's, who defeated G.W. in the finals last year.

The Presidents outclassed Landon and won quite easily 56-49. G.W. captured an early lead and always maintained a comfortable margin.

Against St. Anthony's, the Prexies rolled up an eight-point half time advantage which enabled them to hold off the second half surge of the sharpshooting Tonies.

Gonzaga and G.W. played a nip-and-tuck game for three quarters, but in the last period the Prexies' strength came to the fore, and G.W. won going away.

In the first game of the State Tournament, the Prexies went against top-seeded John Marshall and lost a heart breaker in the first round. John Marshall won the game on foul shots in the final seconds.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

G.W.'s J.V. basketball squad recorded another outstanding record, winning thirteen and losing five. Led by their new coach, Bob Funesti, the Baby Prexies rolled over such top teams as the Thomas Jefferson Jayvees, the Wakefield Varsity, and the Gonzaga Jayvees. Only the W.-L. Jayvees held an edge over G.W. by winning both of their games from the Vice-Presidents.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Coach Cy Painter's Varsity squad had five veteran pitchers to throw at the opposition, but the infield and outfield had to be chosen from boys with little or no Varsity experience.

Tommy Meiklejohn led the veteran pitchers with "Butch" Darley, Wilmer Anderson, Gene Thomas, and Joe Perry, the other members of the "big five." These boys made Coach Painter optimistic in spite of the inexperience of the rest of the team.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

The Vice-Presidents under the guidance of Coach Harry Ricer expected another good season. Mr. Ricer had some sixty hopefuls from which to choose his squad.

The Vice-Presidents played eight league games against the Jayvees of W.-L., Mt. Vernon, Fairfax, and Falls Church. They also played the Wakefield Jayvees and hoped to schedule more non-league opponents.

CROSS COUNTRY

This year, George Washington's cross country track team had a very good season. Under Coach Harry "Red" Caughron, the thinclads won all five of their dual meets, winning over Baltimore Poly, W.-L., Fairfax, Episcopal, and Coolidge. In each of these meets David Brown, Team Captain Charlie Ginsberg, and Frank Myers finished first, second, and third, respectively.

SPRING TRACK

Again this year track took its place as one of the major sports at G.W. Composed of nine returning varsity lettermen, other returnees plus many newcomers, the squad was well balanced in all events. Coach Harry Caughron began the season with hopes for a good year and expected to place high in the big meets.

The Prexie thinclads began early in February preparing for their first meet, the Alexandria Memorial Relays.

CREW

G.W.'s crew looked for a banner year this season. Head Coach Julian Whitestone could put a veteran team on the river, for all but one of last year's Varsity eight were back.

Last season G.W.'s crew was second only to W.-L. in both the Stotesbury Cup and National Championship races. They were able to defeat W.-L. for the Northern Virginia Championship.

Because of the strong crew and the lack of high school rowing teams in the area, G.W. had difficulty in getting opponents. Nearly all of the high school crews are in the Middle Atlantic and New England States, and as a result most of G.W.'s races were held away from home. The annual Stotesbury Cup race was held as usual in Philadelphia, and the Nationals were held at Worcester, Massachusetts.

TENNIS

Since its organization three years ago, the tennis team has rapidly gained popularity at G.W. This year it reached the top with all but one of the players on last year's team returning. In addition, Coach Bob Funesti gained strength through two transfer students and several new boys discovered in the fall intramural tournament won by Bob Morgan.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The activities of the G.A.A. have opened the door to healthy minds and strong bodies for many girls. This international organization, the G.W. branch of which was started twelve years ago by Mrs. Jane Gregory and sponsored now by Miss Lorraine Hubbard, stresses leadership along with sportsmanship. Each girl develops these two qualities as she takes an active part in the club.

To become a member, a girl must be recommended by her physical education teacher, and earn a total of 100 points which are given for performing certain stunts and participating in various sports. When she has earned her points, she receives a G.A.A. pin.
